Traditional Poinsettias Bring Christmas Cheer

By Gary R. Bachman

MSU Horticulturist

Coastal Research & Extension Center

Besides the Christmas tree, the poinsettia is the plant most often associated with the Christmas season. You can hardly go wrong with their colorful bracts brightening your decorations.

The color spectrum of poinsettia is truly remarkable. Colors range from red to white to even maroon, making it hard to choose favorites. There are bicolored, speckled and marbled poinsettias. And if that's not enough, growers are even painting leaves and adding glitter.

When shopping for poinsettias, be aware of the wide variety available. Take your time to select the very best. Poinsettias are fragile plants, and the stems can break quite easily from mishandling.

Be aware that the paper or plastic shipping sleeves around most poinsettias can hide damage that happened in transport. Pay particular attention when removing them; never try to slide the sleeve off because you could damage the plant. Always tear or cut the sleeve off.

The bracts should be completely colored and fully expanded. If they aren't, the plants were probably shipped before they were completely ready.

Growers and florists have been using poinsettias in combination containers in recent years. Poinsettia combination containers sometimes feature contrasting colors, such as snow white chrysanthemum with the traditional red poinsettia.

We at Southern Gardening recommend combining poinsettia with the Mississippi Medallion winner Diamond Frost euphorbia. Both are in the euphorbia family and have similar growing characteristics and care needs.

The following care tips can help keep your poinsettia looking good long after the Christmas holidays.

Poinsettias need at least six hours of indirect sunlight daily and comfortable room temperatures. When grown in the greenhouse, temperatures are about 72 degrees during the day and 60 degrees at night. The closer you can provide to these same temperatures, the longer your poinsettia will last.

Don't let the leaves or bracts touch the window glass. Outside temperatures are readily transferred through the glass, and the cold can damage the plant. A poinsettia might look great by the front door when guests arrive, but it will perform better if it is shielded from the sudden temperature changes caused by open doors.

While poinsettias like cool temperatures, those below 50 degrees will harm the foliage and colorful bracts. So on the way home after purchasing your plants, be sure to have the new poinsettias carefully covered, taking care not to break any branches and stems.

Probably the most important thing to remember is not to over-water these plants. Poinsettias are sensitive to wet feet, and root rot will set in very quickly. The potting mix should feel dry to the touch before watering, and be sure the decorative sleeve has drainage holes.

Some people are sensitive to the milky, latex sap in the poinsettia and may develop a skin rash. To avoid this problem, always wash your hands after handling your poinsettia.

So pick plenty of your favorite poinsettia colors, and use them to brighten the Christmas season.

From Our Kitchen To Yours

A Delicious Christmas Eve Dinner

*****

HOT APPLE CIDER

6 cups apple cider
1/4 cup real maple syrup
2 cinnamon sticks
6 whole cloves
6 whole allspice berries
1 orange peel, cut into strips
1 lemon peel, cut into strips

Pour the apple cider and maple syrup into a large stainless steel saucepan. Place the cinnamon sticks, cloves, allspice berries, orange peel and lemon peel in the center of a washed square of cheesecloth; fold up the sides of the cheesecloth to enclose the bundle, then tie it up with a length of kitchen string. Drop the bundle into the cider mixture. Place the saucepan over moderate heat for 5 to 10 minutes, or until the cider is very hot but not boiling. Remove the cider from the heat. Discard the spice bundle. Ladle the cider into big cups or mugs; add a fresh cinnamon stick to each serving if desired.

CRANBERRY PECAN SALAD

1 cup pecan halves
2 tablespoons raspberry vinegar
1/2 teaspoon Dijon mustard
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
Freshly ground black pepper to taste
6 tablespoons olive oil
6 cups mixed salad greens, rinsed and dried
3/4 cup dried cranberries
1/2 medium red onion, thinly sliced
Crumbled feta cheese

Preheat oven to 400° F. Spread pecans evenly on a baking sheet and toast for 8 to 10 minutes, or until lightly browned and fragrant. In a small bowl, stir together the vinegar, mustard, sugar, salt and pepper; mix until sugar and salt dissolve. Whisk in olive oil. In a salad bowl, toss together the greens, cranberries, pecans, onions, and cheese. Drizzle with vinaigrette, and toss gently to coat.

QUICK SAVORY CRANBERRY GLAZED PORK LOIN ROAST

1 14.5-ounce can whole berry cranberry sauce
1 cup apple jelly
1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
4 cubes chicken bouillon, crushed
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
2 teaspoons garlic powder
2 tablespoons chopped fresh thyme
1 4-pound boneless pork loin roast
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground black pepper

Preheat oven to 425° F. Combine the cranberry sauce, apple jelly, mustard, crushed bouillon, horseradish, garlic powder, and thyme in a saucepan; bring to a boil. Line a large baking pan with foil. Place pork loin in pan, fat side up. Sprinkle evenly with salt and pepper. Use a pastry brush and a small spoon to completely coat the pork with sauce. Cook until the pork is no longer pink in the center, and an instant-read thermometer inserted into the center reads 145° F, about 45 minutes. Continue to baste the roast every 10 minutes with remaining sauce.

RICH AND CREAMY POTATOES AU GRATIN

3 pounds Yukon Gold potatoes, peeled & very thinly sliced
3 cloves garlic, minced
3/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup heavy cream, divided
Freshly ground black pepper to taste
Freshly grated nutmeg to taste
2 cups freshly grated Gruyere cheese, divided

Preheat oven to 350° F. Place potatoes, garlic, and salt into a large pot, fill with enough water to cover, and bring to a boil. Reduce heat to medium, and simmer the potatoes until tender but not mushy, about 8 to 10 minutes. With a slotted spoon, transfer about half the potatoes to a 9x13-inch baking dish. Pour half the cream over the potatoes, season with black pepper and nutmeg, and sprinkle half of the Gruyere cheese onto the mixture. Top with the remaining potatoes; sprinkle again with black pepper and nutmeg. Pour on the remaining cream, and sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake until cheese topping is crisp and brown on top, about 1 hour.

OLD FASHIONED GINGERBREAD

1/2 cup white sugar
1/2 cup butter
1 egg
1 cup molasses
2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup hot water

Preheat oven to 350° F. Grease and flour a 9-inch square pan. In a large bowl, cream together the sugar and butter. Beat in the egg, and mix in the molasses. In a separate bowl, sift together the flour, baking soda, salt, cinnamon, ginger, and cloves. Blend into the creamed mixture. Stir in the hot water. Pour into the prepared pan. Bake 1 hour in the preheated oven, until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Allow to cool in pan before serving.

This timber report contains aggregated individual timber sale stumpage data. Many variables, such as raw material demand, mill inventories, buyer competition, quality, topography and weather, play key roles in determining local prices. Pine Sawtimber prices are based upon a 14-inch Diameter-at-Breast-Height (DBH) log size. Pine Chip N Saw prices are based upon a 10-inch DBH log size. The stumpage prices shown here are reprinted with permission from the Timber Owner Market Guide; a bi-monthly publication of Forest2Market (www.forest2market.com).

A Year In Review - 30 Years In The Making

By Lise Foy, Director
MS Agriculture & Forestry Museum

As we begin to plan where we are going, it's always a good idea to look back and see where we have been. As for me and mine, we celebrated our second year in a new house, welcomed twin girls, accepted a new job, and survived a fortieth birthday (I claim the job, not the birthday). I can't imagine how 2014 can top that; life is good!

There have been a few milestones at the Ag Museum as well in 2013. When the doors opened at the facility in September 1983, the intent was to chronicle the technological and economic developments from an agricultural standpoint which led to changes in the quality of life of Mississippians. Today, thirty years later, the facility boasts over 150,000 visitors annually from all 50 states and 32 countries who experience our cultural history and the importance of the farmer.

The collection of artifacts is vast, and the accumulation of information seems endless. In this age of apocalyptic stories like the book One Second After, where a device set off in the atmosphere instantly disables almost every electrical device in the world including airplanes, most cars, refrigerators and so on, an age where there are people called 'preppers' who all have their own story for the end of the world and they are prepping for it, it's somewhat comforting to know that there is a place that has preserved a way of life and survival without electricity, cell phones, and computers. In the case that we face the shut-down of 'the grid', there is a place that will help us remember how to live without it. That place is the Ag Museum.

With some assistance from the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, the Ag Museum underwent a process in 2013 to develop a master plan for its future. We look forward to sharing our progress in the coming years as we continue to expand our programming and improve our exhibits. We are proud to publish our new mission statement that will guide us in telling the story of Mississippi agriculture.

The mission of the Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum is to create an environment that communicates the value of past and present of Mississippi agricultural lifestyles, relationships, and practices, and their relevance to the future of all people.

Here are a few highlights of 2013.

- The Easter Egg Hunt, co-sponsored by the Egg Marketing Board, attracted over 1,000 visitors who enjoyed egg dyeing, games, and the egg hunt.

- More than 5,560 children and adults attended the October Pumpkin Adventure which included a hay ride tour of the gardens and Small Town Mississippi, admission to the museum, and a pumpkin to take home.

- Harvest Festival was visited by more than 6,600 people. This educational event consisted of demonstrations at the cane mill, print shop, blacksmith shop, and grist mill. The Bisland Cotton Gin, the oldest cotton gin still in operation, ginned 6 bales for visitors. The event also featured live interpreters demonstrating butter churning at the Fortenberry-Parkman Farmstead.

- AgVentures!, held in partnership with Mississippi State University Extension Service, Mississippi Farm Bureau, Mississippi Cattlemen's Association, Mississippi Cattlemen's Association, Mississippi Department of Wildlife Fisheries and Parks, Mis-issippi Soil and Water Commission, and USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS), was presented for 606 4th grade students and teachers. Interactive activities and displays included a visit to the barnyard, a tour of the nature trail, milking Cloverbelle the Cow at the 4-H Museum, a demonstration of cultivation and composting, and presentations about corn and the cotton gin.

- North American Midway Entertainment donated materials and labor for the restoration of the historic carousel. This classic American carousel is one of five carousels in the State of Mississippi recognized by National Carousel Association. The carousel, manufactured by the Allan-Herschell Company of North Tonawanda, New York, circa 1930, has been located at the Ag Museum since 1988.

- A new erosion control demonstration project was completed to address erosion problems that were occurring along two streams on the Museum grounds as well as to serve as demonstration areas for erosion control practices that can be used in urban areas. Four demonstration areas were selected to install storm water run-off control structures including berms, drop pipes, and rock check dams to prevent erosion and stabilize the banks of the streams. Project design and funding were provided by the USDA-NRCS and was matched by in-kind services of the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce.

- A new exhibit, made possible by the Farm Families of Mississippi, showcases the importance and contributions of Mississippi agriculture. It features information about Mississippi's farmers, farmland, forestry, crops, livestock, poultry, and catfish. The exhibit also features interactive activities including two iPads with information and educational videos about Mississippi agriculture and a kiosk featuring My American Farm, an interactive game that teaches agriculture in America.

The Ag Museum is located at 1150 Lakeland Drive in Jackson and is open Tuesday through Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. In addition to our gallery and exhibit spaces, the Ag Museum also has room for your event, whether it's a meeting, a wedding, or other special event. The Easter Egg Hunt attracted over 1,000 visitors from all over the state.

The Harvest Festival held in November was attended by more than 6,000 visitors who came to see live demonstrations of the operation of an antique cotton gin, a saw mill, cane and grist mills, a blacksmith shop, and printing press.

Kyle Lewis, county agent with Mississippi State University's Extension Service in Hinds County, explains the life cycle of corn to Bates Elementary School students during AgVentures.

The carousel, manufactured by the Allan-Herschell Company of North Tonawanda, New York, circa 1930, has been located at the Ag Museum since 1988.

Advertising Guidelines

The Mississippi Market Bulletin is published on the 1st and 15th of each month by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce. The Mississippi Market Bulletin is an important way for the Department to disseminate news and information about issues affecting Mississippi's agriculture industry and the Department's operations.

Through its classified advertising section, the Bulletin provides a forum for Mississippi residents to buy and sell agricultural related items while also giving statewide exposure to small farmers who might not normally have the economic resources for such widespread advertising. The Bulletin does not publish commercial or display ads and all items offered for sale must have been produced, raised, grown or operated on the seller's property. Businesses, corporations, dealerships, brokers or other commercial enterprises are not allowed to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin.

Advertising rules and guidelines have been established for the Mississippi Market Bulletin in order to comply with regulations enforced by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce and to maintain the objectives of the publication. The staff of the Mississippi Market Bulletin reserves the right to edit, revise or reject any advertisement.

The Mississippi Market Bulletin assumes no responsibility for any notice appearing in the Bulletin nor for any transaction resulting from published notices. Advertisers are cautioned that it is against the law to misrepresent any product offered for sale in public notices or advertisements carried in any publication that is delivered by the United States Postal Service.

- In order to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin you must be a subscriber. To place an ad, you must include your name, mailing address and account number that the subscription is listed under on each ad that you submit (this information will not be printed). Each subscriber is allowed to advertise two ads in the Bulletin, listing one ad per category.
- All listings must be agriculture related (raised, grown, produced or operated on your farm). At the top of your ad, write the category that the ad should be listed under. We reserve the right to edit, revise or reject each ad. Please print or type your ad.
- There is a 30-word limit for classified advertisements, this includes: price (on the item you are selling), your city, county and telephone number or name and complete address must be included in the ad if you do not list a telephone number. Ads cannot be held over from one issue to another. You must submit them for each issue.
- Out-of-state residents are not eligible to advertise with the following exceptions: Out-of-state ads are allowed in the "Wanting To Buy" category. Out-of-state ads are allowed for individuals owning farm property within the state that is being offered for sale (consisting of 10 acres or more).

When Buying Pecans, Look at Variety, Color

By Keri Collins Lewis
MSU Ag Communications

Pecans are a staple of the holiday season, but with so many options, some consumers find it hard to decide what to buy.

In addition to buying Mississippi pecans in the shell or already shelled, cooks find a dizzying array of nut sizes, colors, varieties, and prices.

"When consumers are buying pecans, they should ask if the pecans are from the current year's crop to ensure freshness," said Max Draughn, owner of Pecan Hill Farms in Raymond. "The oil in pecans oxidizes, and the flavor and quality of the pecan deteriorates over time."

Draughn said pecan kernels should be a golden color to a light brown.

"Dark kernels show that the kernels are old or have been stored improperly," he said. "Shelled pecans are good for about three months at room temperature. They will keep about two years frozen. Frozen pecan kernels won't lose flavor."

"We suggest that you refrigerate even the pecans that you are going to use in the near future to keep them at their peak flavor," he said.

If the pecans are in the shell, dark shells indicate the pecans are old.

"Shells should be brown in color, not close to black," Draughn said. "Consumers should ask to sample the in-shell nut to see what the inside looks and tastes like. Always remember that dark shells and dark kernels usually equal poor quality."

Draughn said he would like to see consumers shop for pecans by variety, the way they shop for apples or other fruit. Forkert pecans, for example, are thin shelled and can be cracked easily.

"You can crack them just by rolling them between the palms of your hands," he said. "The flavor tends to be crisp but smooth, with the flavor we expect a pecan to have. They're great for eating right out of the shell, they're large, and they rarely disappoint."

Because different pecan varieties have different flavors, their intended purpose is important. Draughn said consumers should ask about varieties based on what they want to do with the pecans.

"Elliot pecans are small in size but large in flavor," Draughn said. "The high oil content imparts a very rich, nutty flavor. They're great for eating fresh but may be at their best for cooking. They're the perfect size for pecan pies."

Small pecans are often the best choice for cooking because they do not have to be chopped and usually cost less. The flavor is as good as the large varieties, if not better.

"Size has no impact on flavor. If people are buying in-shell pecans from a retailer or grower, they should sample the different varieties and buy what they like, no matter the size," he said.

Fortunately for pecan lovers, the popular nut has some health benefits.

"In moderation, they're an excellent snack option," said Brent Fountain, nutrition specialist with the Mississippi State University Extension Service. "They provide protein. Pecans are low in carbohydrates but still a good source of dietary fiber. Nuts are high in fat, but pecans especially are high in the good kinds of fat."

Only 10 percent of the fat in pecans is saturated, and pecans are cholesterol free.

"Because of the high fat content, nuts are high in calories," Fountain said. "However, because of the high fat content, pecans can help you feel fuller faster. If you are feeling hungry but are not ready for a full meal, nuts are a good bridge -- better than a candy bar, which contains roughly the same number of calories."

A serving size of pecans is 1 ounce or about 19 pecan halves. That is about as many as will fit in the palm of an adult's hand.

The MSU Extension Service has publications for home and commercial pecan growers at <http://www.msucare.com>, and a Pinterest board that includes recipes at <http://www.pinterest.com/msuextservice/we-are-nuts-about-pecans>.

Holiday Traditions Bring Meaning, Fun, Connections

By Bonnie Coblentz
MSU Ag Communications

In the rush of parties, shopping, and decorating, families can enjoy traditions that bring some predictability to the craziness that often comes with the holidays.

Carla Stanford, Pontotoc County agent with the Mississippi State University Extension Service, said a tradition can be almost anything, but smaller is sometimes better.

"I caution families not to over-achieve in this respect," Stanford said. "In other words, if tradition means getting up at 5 a.m. on Christmas morning, taking a 30-minute walk together, making breakfast together, singing carols in the neighborhood, helping at a homeless shelter, and then ending up at home for gifts, that might overwhelm."

Instead, consider what activities the family enjoys doing together, and make a point of doing them every year. A tradition can be as simple as sharing hot chocolate on Christmas morning after the gifts have been opened, or gathering around the computer to place a video call to a distant family member.

feel during the occasion," Bell said.

She said family traditions are especially important in fast-paced lives, giving people an opportunity to slow down and remember good times and enjoy the closeness of those they love. Some people will carry on traditions they followed as children in their own families, while others intentionally establish new traditions.

Some of the best traditions are simple and even goofy, like dressing in matching pajamas to watch home movies or reading a holiday-themed book together. Others are meaningful, such as volunteering at an outreach center or meeting needs of a less privileged person.

Creating a new holiday tradition can be an excellent way to make a blended family feel like one unit. And participating in a family's tradition can make a visitor, foster child, or adopted child feel like family.

Bell encouraged newly married couples without children and mature couples with grown children to make or continue family traditions.

"Traditions help us recognize our roots, and we don't have to have a crowd around us to enjoy a

"Traditions do not have to cost one cent to be meaningful," Stanford said. "Family traditions afford a feeling of consistency, stability and continuity -- that warm, fuzzy feeling we like."

Beth Bell, Extension agent in Tallahatchie County, said it is this enjoyable feeling that keeps most family traditions alive.

"Families often look forward to carrying out these traditions each year because of the closeness they special tradition," Bell said.

Since the goal is to enjoy a special moment with loved ones, stress is not welcome in a family tradition.

"Some traditions can be passed down from generation to generation, just like a family heirloom or recipe, but if it causes anxiety each year, it is most likely a tradition you should replace with a better one," Stanford said.

Utterly Deadly Southern Pecan Pie

Ingredients

- 1/2 (14.1-oz.) package refrigerated piecrusts
- 1 tablespoon powdered sugar
- 4 large eggs
- 1 1/2 cups firmly packed light brown sugar
- 1/2 cup butter, melted and cooled to room temperature
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 1 1/2 cups pecan halves

Preparation

1. Preheat oven to 325°. Fit piecrust into a 10-inch cast-iron skillet; sprinkle piecrust with powdered sugar.
2. Whisk eggs in a large bowl until foamy; whisk in brown sugar and next 6 ingredients. Pour mixture into piecrust, and top with pecan halves.
3. Bake at 325° for 30 minutes; reduce oven temperature to 300°, and bake 30 more minutes. Turn oven off, and let pie stand in oven, with door closed, 3 hours.
